mining in Ghana and blackmailing powerful Ghanaians with sex videos was arrested on Saturday

According to Kwame Atuah Sakyi, on hearing the revelation on Newsfile, he quickly called the Interior Minister Ambrose Dery asking for an order to pursue and arrest the Chinese woman. The order came and with dispatch.

He also directed the Ashanti Region branch of the Immigration Service to take into action and have the woman arrested.

Coincidentally, the Immigration Service in the region had arrested four Chinese in an illegal mine at Amansie in the Ashanti Region. The miners mentioned Aisha as the woman who commissioned them to work in the mine for her.

Powerful as she is, or supposed to be, Aisha appeared with the aim of seeking bail for the four arrested Chinese nationals, Kwame Atuah narrated.

She was denied the right to bail and she left with the explanation that she was going to bring a document that legally gives her a right to bail the four but never returned.

The Comptroller General said Aisha's house had a barricade too difficult to surmount and his men were constrained but no sooner did three men appear on the scene.

men, Robert Cabutey, George Appiah Tettehfiio Adjase claimed they work at the staff House and had to meet Aisha, and because Aisha knew who the three men allowed them access beyond the barricade.

Atuah said his men followed the three men, forced their way into the barricade and had Aisha arrested on Saturday and has since been in the custody of the Immigration service in Accra.

It later turned that the three men were not even working at the Flagstaff House, he added.

He said Aisha and the four Chinese galamsey men are still being investigated. The four are most likely to be repatriated but the Immigration official could immediately say what they intend to do with Aisha.
